

DAVID "DC" YEAGER

David "DC" Yeager is an American singer and songwriter and former member of the pop trio Youngstown. The group released two albums through Disney's Hollywood Records and had several singles featured on movie soundtracks that include Inspector Gadget, Pokemon, Summer Catch, and The Princess Diaries as well as the main theme to Disney's television series The Famous Jett Jackson. DC's influences range from Boyz II Men, Jodeci, Stevie Wonder, Color Me Badd, Shai, and Babyface. He has collaborated with several noteworthy artists that include Grammy award winning singer and songwriter Ne-Yo and singer, songwriter, record producer and the former lead singer of the Gap Band, Charlie Wilson.