

Naomi Watson

Naomi Watson is a professional singer, voice coach, and choir director. Beginning to sing at the age of 3 and directing her first choir at the age of 13 she continues to bring music through her life. At the ages between 13-28 she directed a 75-250 voice choir including orchestrating the instruments. Upon moving to Seattle she did quite a bit of karaoke around the White Center area, you can still catch her hanging out in the White Center karaoke scene from time to time. Performing in many different venues around the Seattle and Tacoma area, in venues such as 88 keys, Egan's, Mo' Jam (the nectar lounge) The Rumba Notes, The Royal Room, the Royal Esquire Murphy's Irish Pub, and many other venues. As a professional singer she is also available to book for your venue or event!